I decided upon the thought that I can only find myself once I can admit to myself and approve that both sides are sides of myself.

~Kim Nam-joon

I believe that there's no improvement if you have an inferiority complex and victim mentality.

~Kim Nam-joon

To be honest, my goal is very clear. It's to have many people listen to my music. I want to confirm my existence even more by standing on a large stage.

~Kim Nam-joon

More than anything, I want to just have the largest amount of people possible listening to my music. This is the biggest thing to me.

~Kim Nam-joon

Sometimes I have that kind of critical mind to myself as well. This is because there are times where I have to do things that I don't wish to.

~Kim Nam-joon

I understand that people have a critical mind towards my position. And receive a lot of confusion too.

~Kim Nam-joon

Honestly, I really hated dancing at first. Because I'm not good at it. I still don't like dancing.

~Kim Nam-joon

I liked hip-hop, wanted to do rap, and wanted to stand on a large stage. If you look at it in another angle... it's something that I chose.

~Kim Nam-joon

If I could just have my music be played for many people no matter what method or way is used, I would reply that that is not the case.

~Kim Nam-joon

When G-Dragon released 'Heart Breaker', I remember it. The reactions to when that was released as opposed to 'One of a Kind' is really like heaven and hell.

~Kim Nam-joon

Because I believe that I know about that aspect of hip-hop better than any one else, I'm trying my best in order to be the most real I can in this situation.

~Kim Nam-joon

I knew Zico hyung ever since I was a young child. I believe that hyung's actions in general show me a lot. It gives me help, but also stimulates me.

~Kim Nam-joon

When I see other rappers' lyrics of "I don't do what I don't like to do", I feel like it's really cool and there's also an envious side to me about it.

~Kim Nam-joon

I wrote out the lyrics that I would do at MAMA 4~5 days in advance. After I said that, Zico hyung told me that it's dangerous to write lyrics quickly like that and that I should be carefully.
