Real talent will get through whatever the obstacles.

~Kim Wilde

My life is so full of surprises, nothing surprises me any more.

~Kim Wilde

When I was 15, I was naive, looked like a grey mouse and felt second choice.

~Kim Wilde

I don't take myself seriously any more. Sometimes I just garden in my knickers and platform shoes.

~Kim Wilde

My parents have a wonderful marriage, for many years. But I can't commit myself for such a long time.

~Kim Wilde

Performing, I can take it or leave it. Horticulture is far more challenging. I'm absolutely fascinated by it.

~Kim Wilde

My father has taught me all the tricks of the boys at an early age, which has made me very careful.

~Kim Wilde

Dad is my best mate and I can tell Mum absolutely anything. I really appreciate Mum and Dad. Why are we so close? Young parents, I think. The rock business keeps their minds young.

~Kim Wilde

When you're together with someone for some time, you will automatically depend on them as if they were a crutch. And then it ends.

~Kim Wilde

I do know what my family has done for me, but they do need to give me some space to let me be myself. There would be some things I would handle differently.

~Kim Wilde

I don't mind being laughed at: that's something I really don't mind, and I think that's kept me sane. My ability to laugh at myself and allow others to laugh at me has been my saving grace.

~Kim Wilde

The record company really pissed me off when they told me to lose weight. I couldn't be bothered with looking a certain way. So I left the business. I don't regret it.

~Kim Wilde

I want to conquer the world and it seems like my own family is putting a stop to that.

~Kim Wilde

Careers don't seem to be built up in the same way as they were in the 80s.

~Kim Wilde

They're still building and testing / But what can we do / Condemning the seas and the land and the trees to a tomb

~Kim Wilde

I got to show off in front of my husband, who married me as I was stepping out of the business, so he had no idea that I could strut my stuff on the stage.

~Kim Wilde

I think that not being loved by your parents or not having a brother or not being liked at school or even wearing glasses can be a lot worse than having a famous father.

~Kim Wilde

Gardening is not something to get on your high horse about or be overwhelmed by. Either you enjoy it or you don't.

~Kim Wilde

I didn't spend much time in America, which probably was a mistake. To someone else, having a number one in America would be enough to get them touring.

~Kim Wilde

The big labels have less of a stranglehold on artists and how they record and where they go.

~Kim Wilde

I was very, very fortunate. I knew that. I've always known that.

~Kim Wilde

Snap your fingers and somebody runs / You don't care how they feel just as long as they come / Got your head in the stars now you've come this far / Just who do you think you are?

~Kim Wilde

You can't close your eyes to the lies perpetrated by dangerous fools / 'cos they're handing out rules

~Kim Wilde

When love's the culmination of everything you feel, then it's the only thing that's precious, it's the only thing that's real.

~Kim Wilde

There is sadness and confusion in our hearts / And the world prepares to fight / as it tears itself apart, it isn't fair

~Kim Wilde

Is our time up and on to the next fire / Got my fingers burnt and cut into the wire.

~Kim Wilde

My tears of love are a waste of time if I turn away

~Kim Wilde

Being blonde now doesn't mean Marilyn Monroe vulnerability. Blonde in the Eighties means being in control.

~Kim Wilde

Don't let your dreams escape / The future's ours to shape

~Kim Wilde

You need a bit more to be a pop star than just a good voice.

~Kim Wilde

Sex does not exist for me at all. I haven't had a boyfriend for a long time. There were only three or four in my life up until now anyway.

~Kim Wilde

And while we destroy / Our children will grow / Not missing the things they'll never know / A crime against them / Against you and me / A crime against all humanity

~Kim Wilde

I signed up for the musical Tommy in the West End, where I met my husband.

~Kim Wilde

I'm spending nights just dreaming / And playing the music loud /
They're banging on the ceiling / They're praying that I'll soon be out.

~Kim Wilde

I still tune in to the radio and listen to pop music and enjoy it as much as I ever have.
