Jordan has a strange, haunting beauty and a sense of timelessness. Dotted with the ruins of empires once great, it is the last resort of yesterday in the world of tomorrow. I love every inch of it.

~King Hussein I

Real victories are those that protect human life, not those that result from its destruction or emerge from its ashes.

~King Hussein I

I have said this in the past and I will continue to repeat it as long as I live: Whoever tries to hurt our national unity is my enemy until the day of judgement.

~King Hussein I

Personality is reduced and deformed with depleted thoughts and stagnant mind.

~King Hussein I

It would behoove the world to become used to this fact: that without a just solution to the Palestine tragedy, there can be no stable peace in the Middle East.

~King Hussein I

It is my firm belief that I have a link with the past and a responsibility to the future. I cannot give up. I cannot despair. There's a whole future, generations to come. I have to keep trying.

~King Hussein I

The absence and suppression of justice can only open the way for extremists to exploit such a condition to perpetrate acts of violence against innocents.

~King Hussein I

We should face reality and our past mistakes in an honest, adult way.

Boasting of glory does not make glory, and singing in the dark does not dispel fear.

~King Hussein I

I want to say a simple thing, that the dividing line exists not between Jordan and Israel, but between the proponents of peace and the opponents of peace.

~King Hussein I

God is the one who saved me. He who believes in God, in His cause and His truth is capable of standing up to the greatest power.

~King Hussein I

We respect opposition to any position or policy. But we believe that the opinion that should prevail and be respected is that of the majority.

~King Hussein I

Without peace and without the overwhelming majority of people that believe in peace defending it, working for it, believing in it, security can never really be a reality.

~King Hussein I

I will never work merely to make a reputation for myself, to be popular for appearances rather than for what I am. My task is to lead my country through service.

~King Hussein I

The link between peace and stability on the one hand, and social and economic growth on the other, is dialectic. Peace, poverty, and backwardness cannot mix in one region.
