We should listen to both philosophers and scientists, because the philosophical contribution is different from the scientific contribution, and both of them are worthwhile.

~L.A. Paul

Philosophers, especially metaphysicians, explore features of reality and of our mental life that are different from those explored by scientists.

~L.A. Paul

It's always better to be deep rather than shallow. And I'm deep.

There are laws of nature - of course there are - even if they don't exist in some sort of bizarre Platonic Heaven.

~L.A. Paul

I have quite a bit of sympathy for the idea that psychology and cognitive science have much to offer philosophy, and that the reverse is true as well.
