Corporate nationalism to me is a little bit like what would have happened if Hitler had won. It's scary stuff. It's totalitarianism in a different form, under a different flavour.

~Lance Henriksen

To me rites of passage through life, that's a wonderful, beautiful thing.

~Lance Henriksen

When I do a horror or a fantasy film it all boils down to something in the script that surprises me. It could be a big thing or a small moment. If it's there I'll do it.

~Lance Henriksen

In every respect, fantasy is like doing abstract paintings.

~Lance Henriksen

In the late 1960s, I ended up in Telluride, Colorado. It wasn't like the country club that it is now. It was very raw. Skiing was there, but snowboarders have now entirely overrun it.

~Lance Henriksen

There's nothing more fierce than the female, like the momma lion. Believe me, my wife is a good example.

~Lance Henriksen

We are all guilty in someone's eyes. More so our own.

~Lance Henriksen

I'm not Tom Cruise. I don't have to look that good. I'm always going to have a problem because I'm thought of as someone edgy, but I'm not. I'm a cupcake.

~Lance Henriksen

Although, people make mistakes in their lives, and you could say that the mistakes make us who we are, by how we respond to them. I just don't want to play boring good guys.

~Lance Henriksen

There's nothing more terrifying than an actor who comes with an idea.

~Lance Henriksen

I've done a lot of video games and stuff, and I'm getting better and better at it. I don't have a prejudice about it being a different medium.

~Lance Henriksen

Im a good guy. I love playing bad guys, but good guys that have a good thing going on, I like that, too. I dont like passive good guys.

~Lance Henriksen

Usually the male control and domination that tends to be in our genes gets around a powerful woman who has the ability to make choices different from guys, it throws you off and you get frustrated.

~Lance Henriksen

I have never gauged myself against anyone else.
