We were designed to love and when we do, something good develops inside. We feel clean, rich, whole. Even better, we become less concerned with how we feel and more concerned with the lives of others.

~Larry Crabb

The core problem is not that we are too passionate about bad things, but that we are not passionate enough about good things.

~Larry Crabb

The real power in helping somebody to be transformed is not to do something to them but to join with them.

~Larry Crabb

We can't always make life work. But we can always draw near to God. There is a different way to approach our problems. There is a NEW WAY to live.

~Larry Crabb

The problem sincere Christians have with God often comes down to a wrong understanding of what this life is meant to provide.

~Larry Crabb

The goal of our sanctification is that we place Christ on display in the way we love others.

~Larry Crabb

A vision we give to others of who and what they could become has power when it echoes what the spirit has already spoken into their souls.

~Larry Crabb

It is the understanding of others and the awareness of their needs, that the ambassador of CHRIST should strive to cultivate

~Larry Crabb

Following Christ is a wild adventure full of risk, frustration, excitement, and setbacks. It is not an evening stroll in a planned community along a well-manicured path.

~Larry Crabb

I've practiced centering prayer. I've contemplatively prayed. I've prayed liturgically... I've benefited from each, and I still do. In ways you'll see, elements of each style are still with me.

~Larry Crabb

The degree to which we openly express our feelings should be governed, not by fear of reprisal, but by our commitment to loving others.

~Larry Crabb

I hear Jesus telling us to stop negotiating with Him, to stop offering something we think we have in exchange for His blessings.

~Larry Crabb

Maturity involves two elements: 1) immediate obedience in specific situations and 2) long-range character growth.

~Larry Crabb

Other forms of relating to God that have unique value in connecting us to Him include contemplative prayer and centering prayer.
