Human beings are perhaps never more frightening than when they are convinced beyond doubt that they are right.

~Laurens van der Post

Man is never alone. Acknowledged or unacknowledged, that which dreams through him is always there to support him from within.

~Laurens van der Post

We have a mighty task before us. The earth needs our assistance.

~Laurens van der Post

Life is its own journey, presupposes its own change and movement, and one tries to arrest them at one's eternal peril.

~Laurens van der Post

The mystery of creation was always between two, in an awareness that there was always both a 'thou' and an 'I'.

~Laurens van der Post

Of all man's inborn dispositions there is none more heroic than the love in him. Everything else accepts defeat and dies, but love will fight no-love every inch of the way.

~Laurens van der Post

Creativity and love come from the same source.

~Laurens van der Post

You cannot take the life of your times further than you have taken yourself.

~Laurens van der Post

There is a way in which the collective knowledge of mankind expresses itself, for the finite individual, through mere daily living . . . a way in which life itself is sheer knowing.

~Laurens van der Post

Organized religion is making Christianity political rather than making politics Christian.
