The pain doesn't go away. You just make room for it.

~Laurie Holden

Whenever I have to do an emotional scene, I just take my contacts out and it means I can't see anything.

~Laurie Holden

I think women are amazing and womens friendships are like a sisterhood and we should see more of it in television and film.

~Laurie Holden

I don't want my tombstone to say actress. I want it to say human being.

~Laurie Holden

I'm a tomboy. I really love sports. I'm really looking forward to being the sniper gal, running around and shooting zombies. I find that really exhilarating.

~Laurie Holden

I'd love to play a femme fatale. And I wouldn't mind working with George Clooney.

~Laurie Holden

I am a tomboy and I love being with the boys and shooting guns and stuff.

~Laurie Holden

It's a fun thing to do: Go to a shooting range with a buddy, knock off a few rounds, release stress.

~Laurie Holden

I think that Comic-Con is just a wonderful forum. It's just the perfect place for our show and the fans have embraced us so wonderfully. I would be shocked, if we weren't back every year.

~Laurie Holden

I've worked with Frank [Darabont] on two collaborations, The Majestic with Jim Carrey and Stephen King's The Mist.

~Laurie Holden

Driving through much of the southern part of the U.S. reminds me of where I grew up in Canada. The trees, homes, sense of community... I love the South.
