Logic is the foundation of the certainty of all the knowledge we acquire.

~Leonhard Euler

For the sake of brevity, we will always represent this number 2.718281828459... by the letter e.

~Leonhard Euler

Nothing takes place in the world whose meaning is not that of some maximum or minimum.

~Leonhard Euler

For since the fabric of the universe is most perfect and the work of a most wise Creator, nothing at all takes place in the universe in which some rule of maximum or minimum does not appear.

~Leonhard Euler

Now I will have less distraction.

~Leonhard Euler

Madam, I have come from a country where people are hanged if they talk.

~Leonhard Euler

Transcendental [numbers], They transcend the power of algebraic methods.

~Leonhard Euler

After exponential quantities the circular functions, sine and cosine, should be considered because they arise when imaginary quantities are involved in the exponential.

~Leonhard Euler

A function of a variable quantity is an analytic expression composed in any way whatsoever of the variable quantity and numbers or constant quantities.
