People of all sexes have the right to explore femininity, masculinity-and the infinite variations between-without criticism or ridicule.

~Leslie Feinberg

Gender is the poetry each of us makes out of the language we are taught.

~Leslie Feinberg

My right to be me is tied with a thousand threads to your right to be you.

~Leslie Feinberg

You're more than just neither, honey. There's other ways to be than either-or. It's not so simple. Otherwise there wouldn't be so many people who don't fit.

~Leslie Feinberg

surrenderin is unimaginably more dangerous than struggling for survival!

~Leslie Feinberg

I reserve my right to be complex.

~Leslie Feinberg

It's a beauty one isn't born with, but must fight to construct at great sacrifice.

~Leslie Feinberg

I think girls and boys should be able to be any way they want to be without getting picked on.

~Leslie Feinberg

More exists among human beings than can be answered by the simplistic question I'm hit with every day of my life: "Are you a man or a woman?

~Leslie Feinberg

I live proudly in a body of my own design. I defend my right to be complex

~Leslie Feinberg

I began to feel the pleasure of the weightless state between here and there

~Leslie Feinberg

everybody's scared, but if you don't let your fears stop you, that's bravery!

~Leslie Feinberg

I learned that strength, like height, is measured by who you're standing next to.

~Leslie Feinberg

Are you with women who only bleed monthly on their cycles?
