Fighting for happiness is the hardest thing you'll ever fight for, but it's the only thing worth fighting for.

~Lilly Singh

There is no shame in falling down but there is pride in getting back up.

~Lilly Singh

If I could give advice to anyone, it would be that sometimes the best way you can fight a problem - and this is going to be a little bit controversial - is to not address it.

~Lilly Singh

After a long day at work, I want someone to come home, turn on my video and think, "Oh my god, how girls get ready? This is hilarious, I love this, I'm forgetting about all my problems."

~Lilly Singh

The best way to battle fear is with courage. You have to look at the opposite of fear: Fear is scared of courage.

~Lilly Singh

Surround yourself with like-minded, strong people, use your voices and choose courage over fear.

~Lilly Singh

I would never want to change myself to be someone I'm not.

~Lilly Singh

I think the best way I could ever fight racism is just being as successful as possible.

~Lilly Singh

Everyone finds their voice at different times in their life.

~Lilly Singh

You can never compare a stadium full of people to statistics online ... There's something about seeing people's faces, and it's amazing [seeing how] things online can also be translated offline.

~Lilly Singh

I reflect back on my mom's journey, someone who was an immigrant to Canada and came not knowing anything and figured it out tremendously. I reflect back on that a lot.

~Lilly Singh

I never want to position myself where I seem like an ambassador of anti-racism. I am fortunate enough to say that I've never experienced extreme amounts of racism, but a lot of my friends do.

~Lilly Singh

I would never say, "I'm going to do these things in a video to be a role model so people make me a role model." I want to be myself.

~Lilly Singh

I'm a big believer of having a vision board, so I have a vision board, and that's motivating because it shows me all the things I have accomplished and all the things I still want to accomplish.

~Lilly Singh

I think, especially in this time in the world, there is very much a choice between fear and courage, and we all have to pick the courageous route.

~Lilly Singh

The number one thing I want my videos to be is relatable.

~Lilly Singh

I think there's so many things happening, whether it's gender inequality or immigration, there's just so many issues happening around the world where not doing anything makes you guilty.

~Lilly Singh

I've learned from people, being in the weird situations that I get in. Like, dressed as my mom kissing Seth Rogen - that's a thing that happened.

~Lilly Singh

I think you have to proactively seek out things that inspire you and consume as much of those things as possible.

~Lilly Singh

This idea of having back-up plans is ingrained into us to make us believe that that's the smart thing to do.

~Lilly Singh

Finding like-minded people is very important. It's hard to be a happy meal in a room full of sad people.
