If men can run the world, why can't they stop wearing neckties? How intelligent is it to start the day by tying a little noose around your neck?

~Linda Ellerbee

If you believe in your heart that you are right, you must fight with all your might to do it your way. Only dead fish swim with the stream all the time.

~Linda Ellerbee

Media literacy is not just important, it's absolutely critical. It's going to make the difference between whether kids are a tool of the mass media or whether the mass media is a tool for kids to use.

~Linda Ellerbee

The new national campfire - radio.

~Linda Ellerbee

A good time to laugh is any time you can.

~Linda Ellerbee

What I like most about change is that it's a synonym for 'hope'. If you're taking a risk, what you are really saying is, 'I believe in tomorrow and I will be the part of it.'

~Linda Ellerbee

In the coldest February, as in every other month in every other year, the best thing to hold on to in this world is each other.

~Linda Ellerbee

I want to know why, if men rule the world, they don't stop wearing neckties.

~Linda Ellerbee

When the anchorman is wearing a colonel's uniform, it tells you something.

~Linda Ellerbee

People are pretty much alike. It's only that our differences are more susceptible to definition than our similarities.

~Linda Ellerbee

Only dead fish swim with the stream all of the time.

~Linda Ellerbee

There are two types of change: the change we choose and the change that chooses us.

~Linda Ellerbee

Like Nietzsche, I believe that without music, life would be a mistake. Nothing but silence says it better.

~Linda Ellerbee

The best time to laugh is anytime you can.

~Linda Ellerbee

I think laughter may be a form of courage. As humans we sometimes stand tall and look into the sun and laugh, and I think we are never more brave than when we do that.

~Linda Ellerbee

in television the product is not the program; the product is the audience and the consumer of that product is the advertiser. The advertiser does not 'buy' a news program. He buys an audience.

~Linda Ellerbee

I believe in tomorrow and I will be part of it.

~Linda Ellerbee

I've heard it said that the first law of journalism is to confirm existing prejudice, rather than contradict it.

~Linda Ellerbee

I think laughter may be a form of courage.

~Linda Ellerbee

Styles, like everything else, change. Style doesn't.

~Linda Ellerbee

It's not brain surgery. It's not nuclear physics. It's television. It's only television.

~Linda Ellerbee

if you don't want to get old, don't mellow.

~Linda Ellerbee

I am not for abortion; nobody is for abortion. I am for your right to make your own hard choices in this world.

~Linda Ellerbee

Time doesn't go. Time stays. We go.

~Linda Ellerbee

Just because it's a rat race doesn't mean it's okay to be a rat.

~Linda Ellerbee

Always remember to set a place at the table of life for the unexpected guest.

~Linda Ellerbee

Co-dependence...taking someone else's temperature to see how you feel.

~Linda Ellerbee

I was raised by and have raised people who regard telling one story when two would do as a sign someone is not really trying.

~Linda Ellerbee

Pitching was about fooling people, manipulating them, making them believe in something that ultimately wasn't there. Great pitching was great lying.

~Linda Ellerbee

Change, like youth, is purely wasted on the young.

~Linda Ellerbee

The whole town looks as if it had been left out in the rain too long and by mistake.

~Linda Ellerbee

Presumably a movement is more polite than a revolution, and a lot slower.

~Linda Ellerbee

Putting people in a room and strapping wires to their wrist to find out if I make them tingle when I'm telling them about Beirut is a long way from Edward R. Murrow.

~Linda Ellerbee

Dreck is dreck and no amount of fancy polish is going to make it anything else.

~Linda Ellerbee

How is it that so often . . . I get the feeling I've worked hard to learn something I already know, or knew, once.
