I was still making movies so it wasn't as if I were working in a bar, but they were independent films that couldn't find distributors.

~Linda Fiorentino

Marriage is a financial contract; I have enough contracts already.

~Linda Fiorentino

I never wear leather.

~Linda Fiorentino

In the end it's about the work, not an award you get for the work.

~Linda Fiorentino

I'm convinced my mother only had sex eight times.

~Linda Fiorentino

People over 30 are interested in sex too, but they get real movies about it.

~Linda Fiorentino

Teens aren't just interested in getting laid. I won't believe that's all they're interested in. I have four younger sisters and they're sick of being shown how they're supposed to react in bed.

~Linda Fiorentino

As actors, the thing we have to fight, more than even the business part of making movies, is boredom.

~Linda Fiorentino

I go to bed with men, not boys.

~Linda Fiorentino

I would love to have children, yes. Maybe even adopt them. I'm not sure that I should pass on my genes.

~Linda Fiorentino

I've been in the bargain basement of the movie business.

~Linda Fiorentino

All I'm thinking about today is cleaning my bathroom.

~Linda Fiorentino

They're my favorite two words these days: Oscar reject.

~Linda Fiorentino

Chazz Palminteri is just the ultimate screen husband.

~Linda Fiorentino

I don't look at scripts in terms of commerciality. I just look at the part, the people involved.

~Linda Fiorentino

I would like to do maybe a smaller romantic comedy.

~Linda Fiorentino

It didn't rain today, so I didn't have to work. Why don't you have to sit around and wait until it rains?

~Linda Fiorentino

If I'm not afraid when I'm reading a script, that means I know I've done it before. If I read something and think, Wow, I can't play this part, then I want to play it more.
