Just live! Live now! Don't wait, and don't let anyone tell you that you're a work in progress.

~Lindy West

Indignation and determination are much more constructive emotions than shame and embarrassment. And feminism was this engine that turned one into the other.

~Lindy West

We only get one life. Wasting someone's time is the subtlest form of murder.

~Lindy West

It's hard to feel hurt or frightened when you're flooded with pity.

~Lindy West

I don't want any woman to think that I don't have empathy and deep care for all women's body issues. I just want to make sure that we don't only focus on the most palatable ones.

~Lindy West

There were moments from my childhood when I remembered realizing that I was too big. I carried them around as weapons to use against myself, to remind myself there was something wrong with me.

~Lindy West

When I started to internalize fat positivity and believe it, my response was the same one I had when I started to understand the scope of gender inequality: deep indignation.
