I hate the confessional. I love leaving the confessional. I hate going to the confessional. I would be a mess without it.

~Lino Rulli

The best thing about being Catholic is that you're a part of something bigger than yourself and you're a part of the community that's been there for 2000 years and it'll be there till the end of time.

~Lino Rulli

Everybody is called to become a saint. Not everybody's gonna be canonized by the Church...The only thing about being canonized is you're already dead so you don't even get to go to the party.

~Lino Rulli

I think we're all a part of something. We're striving (to be) more than we are...I really don't only see religion as being for people who are perfect. They've got it all set. And I'm not like that.

~Lino Rulli

I don't know any saint who wanted to be the patron saint of kissing.

~Lino Rulli

I think the best part of being Catholic, strange as it might sound, is that I know it's right. It's true.

~Lino Rulli

At the end of the day, every media entity is in the business of selling soap. They're not afraid of being popular.

~Lino Rulli

Catholic media sucks. It's boring. It's for old people. It's not interesting. It's like you're in a class with an 80 year old nun.

~Lino Rulli

You can't blame all people's psychological ills on religion. A lot of people were crazy before they got in a religion and they just happen to be crazy and religious.

~Lino Rulli

Guilt is always a good thing. If I kick you in the groin right now and don't feel guilty about it there's something wrong with me. Something's wrong with my conscience.

~Lino Rulli

If all the priests go we all want to be married and the pope goes all priests should be married than I say go for it.
