

Linwood Barclay

Quotes

Writing, Book, Character, People, School, Different, Car, Country, Light, Design, Opportunity, Notebook, Library, Hook, Risk, Cutting, Switching, Men, Fiction, Journalist

Some authors, when starting a novel, imagine a place first. Others, a character starts taking shape in their head. I start with a hook, a situation, a 'what if.

~Linwood Barclay

My life isn't much different than when I worked full time as a journalist.

~Linwood Barclay

Sometimes, it's easier to tell a stranger something very personal. It's like there's less risk, opening yourself up to someone who doesn't know you.

~Linwood Barclay

I was filling entire school notebooks with stories by Grade 3. Of course, they were double-spaced, and the handwriting was huge.

~Linwood Barclay

Facebook, from what I can tell, is the virtual equivalent of dropping into the homes of several million people, all of whom say at the same time: 'Hey! Let's set up the slide projector!

~Linwood Barclay

Related Links:

- Writing Quotes
- Book Quotes
- Character Quotes
- People Quotes
- School Quotes
- Different Quotes
- Car Quotes
- Country Quotes
- Light Quotes
- Design Quotes
- Opportunity Quotes
- Notebook Quotes
- Library Quotes
- Hook Quotes
- Risk Quotes
- Cutting Quotes
- Switching Quotes
- Men Quotes
- Fiction Quotes
- Journalist Quotes