Your future is your own again. And I consider that to be a happy ending to the story.

~Lisa Mangum

Sometimes wearing a mask is the best way to show our true selves.

~Lisa Mangum

Somehow difficulties are easier to endure when you know your dream is waiting for you at the end.

~Lisa Mangum

You gotta keep things moving. If leaving behind the past means you can have a better future, then, sure, why not?

~Lisa Mangum

An unanticipated destination, perhaps, but you must admit, all the best journeys take unexpected detours.

~Lisa Mangum

I want pictures like these. The kind that can capture a moment, make it real, make it last. I need pictures that do more than reflect. I need pictures that are truth.

~Lisa Mangum

Be sure of your heart before you speak.

~Lisa Mangum

Ah, but art and trouble go hand in hand. If you cannot be troubled to create art from your heart, then your art will never trouble the heart of others.

~Lisa Mangum

Make your own decisions. Make your own choices.

~Lisa Mangum

I try to make choices for my own life. And I try to make those choices count.

~Lisa Mangum

Pawns are really queens in disguise.

~Lisa Mangum

Happiness can be close by, even if your heart is far away.

~Lisa Mangum

People think edges are bad, but they are really there to keep us from falling to pieces. They don't hold us back, they hold us in. They hold us together.

~Lisa Mangum

Why did New York feel more like home to me than home did? I'd heard of love at first sight, but I didn't know it could happen with a whole city.

~Lisa Mangum

We can't live our lives obsessing about the past or mourning the future. We have a responsibility to ourselves and to each other to live every moment of our lives the best we can.

~Lisa Mangum

You know, I've learned that sometimes you can only see what you want to see by changing where you stand. And standing somewhere unexpected can lead to unexpected discoveries.

~Lisa Mangum

Because when all you have is the past, it's hard to let it go.

~Lisa Mangum

I believe that sometimes people come into your life at exactly the right moment to give you exactly what you need at that moment.

~Lisa Mangum

Gotta keep moving; can't stop; stagnation kills.
