It's just the end of some things. And the beginning of others.

~Lisa McMann

Once you read something, you can't erase it from your brain.

~Lisa McMann

The Thickety is a sinister, magical debut with a marvelous and shocking heroine. J.A. White's elegant writing and masterful plot kept me turning pages late into the night.

~Lisa McMann

Hippie said he couldn't stay. Be back tomorrow -Love,Mom

~Lisa McMann

Go force your condescending man-logic on the next house. You can go now.

~Lisa McMann

And then they kiss. Slowly, gently. Because with the right person, sometimes kissing feels like healing.

~Lisa McMann

I know i'll screw up. But i'll keep trying, as long as you let me.

~Lisa McMann

Carrie doesn't seem to talk about anything with sharp edges. Maybe she's afraid they might poke her and then she'd burst.

~Lisa McMann

Because there's no way on earth she's going to make it through college unless she grows some serious ovaries and turns this train wreck around

~Lisa McMann

You're asking for trouble, Hannagan," he growls. "And you would be....?" Janie asks. She giggles. "Trouble.

~Lisa McMann

Dreams aren't memories," he says.

~Lisa McMann

~Lisa McMann

Just stand. Bend. Balance.

~Lisa McMann

She gets to school late. Bashful gives her a tardy, and won't reconsider. Janie always hated Bashful. Stupidest. Dwarf. Ever.

~Lisa McMann

The phone rings. "Asshole," she mutters. She picks it up. "Will you let me explain?" "No." She hangs up.

~Lisa McMann

"¡Jaciñ!" She yells again, and then she says something in Spanish. A moment later he comes down the hallway. "I'm going to tell Grandfather you said that," he says. "What do you want?"

~Lisa McMann

I highly regret this day in advance.

~Lisa McMann

If you want to touch me, Kendall, touch me. Don't hide behind those little girl slaps.

~Lisa McMann

He kisses her. She kisses him. They kiss.

~Lisa McMann

Janie's hip buzzes again. Maybe she'll have to have her whole leg amputated, she thinks sadly. That would really suck.

~Lisa McMann

Time to stop crying, time to get her act together and do something. Time to move beyond the pity party.

~Lisa McMann

Feels like I'm in a play and I don't know all my lines.

~Lisa McMann

No rash decisions. No big commitments. Each day as it comes.

~Lisa McMann

With practice, you will master your own dreams.

~Lisa McMann

A trapped soul waits for redemption. It waits. And waits. For her to take her last breath.

~Lisa McMann

So, ah, I'm not sure if you know this, but you're not wearing a shirt."
"Distracting, isn't it?"

~Lisa McMann

If you don't want me to see, I guess, don't sleep in the same room as me." He looks at her with a sly smile. "But I'm known for sleeping in
