When you love someone, it doesn't really matter if they love you back or not. Having love in your heart for someone is its own reward. or punishment, depending on the circumstances.

~Lisa Unger

The Universe doesn't like secrets. It conspires to reveal the truth, to lead you to it.

~Lisa Unger

Many people believe that evil is the presence of something. I think it's the absence of something.

~Lisa Unger

The truth has not so much set us free as it has ripped away a carefully constructed facade, leaving us naked to begin again.

~Lisa Unger

I think that's the moment when we all grow up, when we stop blaming our parents for the messes we've made out of our lives and start owning the consequences of our actions.

~Lisa Unger

You can cut the ties that bind but not without losing a part of yourself. You can walk away and hide from the people who made you, but you'll always hear them calling your name.

~Lisa Unger

The universe conspires to reveal the truth and to make your path easy if you have the courage to follow the signs.

~Lisa Unger

We can't hold on to anyone or anything, you know. We lose everything except that which we carry within us.

~Lisa Unger

The past is history. The future is a mystery. The present is a gift.

~Lisa Unger

It's strange how memory gets twisted and pulled like taffy in its retelling, how a single event can mean something different to everyone present.

~Lisa Unger

Hope is good. Without it, well, you do the math. But hope has to be like a prayer. Putting it out there to something more powerful than yourself.

~Lisa Unger

Motherhood was an ever widening circle of good-byes.

~Lisa Unger

There's nothing particularly dark in my past... I live in the light. My disposition is basically happy. I have a good life.

~Lisa Unger

People who stay in the same town with the same friends for their entire lives never get a chance to find out who they can really be, because they will always be considered as who they were.

~Lisa Unger

Once you've started down that road to self-discovery, no matter how treacherous the path before you, you can't turn back. The universe doesn't allow it.

~Lisa Unger

It must be the ultimate punishment, don't you think, to finally gain wisdom, only to realize that the consequences of your actions are irrevocable?

~Lisa Unger

Everyone always talks about how well mothers know their children. No one ever seems to notice how well children know their mothers.

~Lisa Unger

When you're young it's easy to confuse passion for love.

~Lisa Unger

I didn't see the point of judging and analyzing a single moment in someone's life.

~Lisa Unger

anyone who used the word hip probably wasn't.

~Lisa Unger

you cannot hope for change in others, you can only work toward it in yourself. And that's hard work.

~Lisa Unger

Isn't it funny how the people least impacted by tragedy are the most eager to move on?

~Lisa Unger

You [meaning mothers] said good-bye a little every day -- from the minute they left your body until they left your home.

~Lisa Unger

I loved him so much. It didn't change all the reasons we couldn't be together, but it kept me returning to his body, kept my skin seeking his skin over and over again in the sad dance we did.

~Lisa Unger

Denial: my family heritage. If you don't ask the questions, the truth will never inconvenience you.

~Lisa Unger

Even if someone is overcome with rage, it takes amazing arrogance to kill.

~Lisa Unger

If I weren't a writer, I'd be a psychiatrist.

~Lisa Unger

I definitely feel that plot flows from character. I don't believe that you can construct a plot and insert people into it.

~Lisa Unger

The woman I was seems hopelessly naive. I envy her.

~Lisa Unger

Bored people looked for drama and caused trouble.

~Lisa Unger

Today something interesting happened. I died.

~Lisa Unger

In the end, I cared about him so much that I just thought he deserved someone who loved him more than I did.

~Lisa Unger

Alafair Burke is one of the finest young crime writers working today.

~Lisa Unger

Judgment is such a useful shield, isn't it? We can hide behind it, rise above others on its crest, keep ourselves safe and separate.

~Lisa Unger

Love accepts. Forgiveness comes in time.
