One of the things I like about my profession, and that I find healthy, is that one constantly has to break oneself to pieces.

~Liv Ullmann

It's better to wake up alone knowing that you're alone, than waking up with someone and still be lonely

~Liv Ullmann

If only we could accept that there is no difference between us where human values are concerned. Whatever sex.

~Liv Ullmann

Sometimes I get a little tired of it. But you know, what a privilege, to get tired of working with Ingmar Bergman.

~Liv Ullmann

Life experiences become acting experiences, which in turn become life experiences.

~Liv Ullmann

Oh, those wonder-filled evenings when acting enables me for a short moment to have more life.

~Liv Ullmann

reality can be magnificent even when life is not.

~Liv Ullmann

Nothing ever comes to an end. Wherever one has sunk roots that emanate from one's best or truest self, one will always find a home.

~Liv Ullmann

The best thing that can come with success is the knowledge that it is nothing to long for.

~Liv Ullmann

The fear inside of loneliness: That only what others have is real.

~Liv Ullmann

Choice is the essence of what I believe it is to be human.

~Liv Ullmann

I believe we come to earth with sealed orders. I believe that only those who lack passion look down on purpose.

~Liv Ullmann

it is only in statistics that people die by the millions. Each person dies individually, in his own predicament.

~Liv Ullmann

I looked into the mirror and saw this middle-aged woman who keeps invading my face.

~Liv Ullmann

Hollywood is loneliness beside the swimming pool.

~Liv Ullmann

Soon I will be an old, white-haired lady, into whose lap someone places a baby, saying, "Smile, Grandma!" - I, who myself so recently was photographed on my grandmother's lap.

~Liv Ullmann

Ibsen was Norwegian by birth, but universal in spirit.

~Liv Ullmann

What I have always loved most in men is imperfection.

~Liv Ullmann

I realize that we've come to a different way of showing movies. But I'm still with the old ways, and I can't change.

~Liv Ullmann

There is a difference between film and digital. Because digital, you know, it's perfect and whatever. But with film, you get depth. You get subject.

~Liv Ullmann

Since suffering confers no rights on its victims, we who witness are the ones responsible for restoring these lost rights.

~Liv Ullmann

I have the experience of age and suffering.

~Liv Ullmann

I can't expect people to decide that they will change with me, so I can see why I'm on the old side.

~Liv Ullmann

Film is wonderful as opposed to theater, because it will always live there, and they will always be seen.

~Liv Ullmann

The age, you know. A man can be wiser and wiser, and a woman is older and older.

~Liv Ullmann

I'm maybe not so much an exception, maybe because I've lived so long that more is coming, more is there.

~Liv Ullmann

The void Papa's death left in me became a kind of cavity, into which later experiences were to be laid.

~Liv Ullmann

The Summer Book is beautiful and warm, with the kind of wisdom we can adapt to our everyday lives.

~Liv Ullmann

I believe that it is sometimes less difficult to wake up and feel that I am alone when I really am, than to wake up with someone else and be lonely.
