This fork in the road happens over a hundred times a day, and it's the choices that you make that will determine the shape of your life.

~Liz Murray

There's always a way through things if you work hard enough and look close. It all depends on your level of determination.

~Liz Murray

Like my mother, I was always saying, 'I'll fix my life one day.' It became clear when I saw her die without fulfilling her dreams that my time was now or maybe never.

~Liz Murray

But avoidance allows you to believe that you're making all kinds of strides when you're not.

~Liz Murray

You are bigger than your circumstances.

~Liz Murray

One point of view gives a one dimensional world.

~Liz Murray

I've learned in my life that you really don't know what's possible until you're already doing it.

~Liz Murray

Life has a way of doing that; one minute everything makes sense, the next, things change. People get sick. Families break apart, your friends could close the door on you.

~Liz Murray

If I want to be a loving, generous, giving person, I'm not going to test the waters. I'm simply going to be a loving, generous, giving person.

~Liz Murray

Life takes on the meaning that you give it.

~Liz Murray

Success creates opportunities for other people.

~Liz Murray

My mother used to sit at the foot of my bed and she would share her dreams with me.

~Liz Murray

I'd been living on the streets of New York, and I was sleeping at my friends' houses, sometimes in the subway.

~Liz Murray

Many nights, I longed for home. But it occurred to me as I struggled for a feeling of comfort and safety: I have no idea where home is.

~Liz Murray

The lesson that people can't give me what they don't have, and if there's anything I took from it, it was: okay, I don't really expect anyone to hand me anything. There's going to be me and the world.

~Liz Murray

... In our family, if you said the words 'I feel,' they better be followed with 'hungry' or 'cold'. Because we didn't get personal, that's just how it was.
