Directing is like cooking, it's like cuisine. You cannot make a great dish with bad ingredients. I have great actors, and I'm putting them together. That's all I'm doing.

~Louis Leterrier

I love comedies and I like sometimes comedies have a tendency to get a bit lazy. "The Other Guys" was not lazy.

French cinema has always been very interesting, and it's still very powerful. I think it goes to show that it's great to still have a cinema that doesn't try to emulate, for example, American cinema.

~Louis Leterrier

I just wanted to make a properly good movie, and not beg for the love of the fans.

~Louis Leterrier

Some directors are like it's their... nothing can change, nothing can move. I like collaborating, even when an extra has an idea, I like to bring to really have collaboration.

~Louis Leterrier

The 2-D movie works as well as the 3-D movie. I want to make sure that people like the 2-D version. It's not a gimmick. It actually improves the viewing experience, but the movie stands on its own.

~Louis Leterrier

The movies like "Star Wars," for example or "Lord Of The Rings," they work because it's a a mix of everything.

~Louis Leterrier

Every actor is different so you cannot become best friends on Day One. You just have to learn to know each other.
