

Louise Fitzhugh

Quotes

Thinking, People, Lying, Spy, Rest Of Your Life, Love Life, Ugly, Hate, Sky, Care, Sometimes, Sea, Onions, Missing, Not Sure, Health, Two, Mess, Good Man, Feel Better

Harriet never minded admitting she didn't know something. So what, she thought, I could always learn.

~Louise Fitzhugh

You know what? You're an individual, and that makes people nervous. And it's gonna keep making people nervous for the rest of your life.

~Louise Fitzhugh

I feel there's a funny little hole in me that wasn't there before, like a splinter in your finger, but this is somewhere above my stomach.

~Louise Fitzhugh

Don't mess with anybody on a Monday. It's a bad, bad day.

~Louise Fitzhugh

Gone is gone. I never miss anything or anyone because it all becomes a lovely memory. I guard my memories and love them, but I don't get in them and lie down.

~Louise Fitzhugh

There are as many ways to live as there are people.

~Louise Fitzhugh

Life is a struggle and a good spy gets in there and fights.

~Louise Fitzhugh

If you ever get in real trouble, don't panic. Sit down and think about it. Remember two things, always. There must be some way out of it and there must be humor in it somewhere.

~Louise Fitzhugh

There is no sight so ugly as the human face in anger.

~Louise Fitzhugh

Sometimes you have to lie. But to yourself you must always tell the truth.

~Louise Fitzhugh

It won't do you a bit of good to know everything if you don't do anything with it.

~Louise Fitzhugh

This was too much. "I refuse. I absolutely REFUSE to be an onion.

~Louise Fitzhugh

Writers don't care what they eat. They just care what you think of them

~Louise Fitzhugh

People who love work, love life.

~Louise Fitzhugh

All I ask of in the world is just one day after another with nothing planned.

~Louise Fitzhugh

Good manners are very important, particularly in the morning.

~Louise Fitzhugh

When people don't do anything they don't think anything, and when people don't think anything there's nothing to think about them.

~Louise Fitzhugh

[Harriet] hated math. She hated math with every bone in her body. She spent so much time hating it that she never had time to do it.

~Louise Fitzhugh

LIFE IS A GREAT MYSTERY. IS EVERYBODY A DIFFERENT PERSON WHEN THEY ARE WITH SOMEBODY ELSE?

~Louise Fitzhugh

Related Links:

- Thinking Quotes
- People Quotes
- Lying Quotes
- Spy Quotes
- Rest Of Your Life Quotes
- Love Life Quotes
- Ugly Quotes
- Hate Quotes
- Sky Quotes
- Care Quotes
- Sometimes Quotes
- Sea Quotes
- Onions Quotes
- Missing Quotes
- Not Sure Quotes
- Health Quotes
- Two Quotes
- Mess Quotes
- Good Man Quotes
- Feel Better Quotes