Governments cannot assume or expect that the ECB will always facilitate their funding independently of the achievement of their fiscal and other policy objectives.

~Lucas Papademos

The participation of our country in the eurozone is a guarantee for the country's monetary stability. It is a driver of financial prosperity.

~Lucas Papademos

My job will not be easy but I am convinced the problems will be solved in a quicker and more efficient way if there is unity and consensus.

~Lucas Papademos

The ECB's interventions in sovereign bond markets should not be perceived or interpreted as a 'freebie' for governments. They are temporary.

~Lucas Papademos

The government is determined to continue the process of fiscal consolidation and structural reform in order to secure sound public finances and improve the country's international competitiveness.

~Lucas Papademos

Greece could default on its debts and even exit currency bloc if it cannot deliver reforms.

~Lucas Papademos

Delays in granting of justice very often reduce the speed with which investment could be undertaken, discouraging investors.

~Lucas Papademos

Our membership of the euro is a guarantee of monetary stability and creates the right conditions for sustainable growth. Our membership of the euro is the only choice.

~Lucas Papademos

More cuts were needed to avoid exiting the eurozone.

~Lucas Papademos

In the 20 years before Greece end up with the Euro, efforts to improve competitiveness through exchange rate and adjustments resulted only in temporary gains of competitiveness.

~Lucas Papademos

I think it's often discussed that leaving the Euro is an option for Greece. I think this is really not an option.

~Lucas Papademos

I think the facts reveal that the European partners have taken extraordinary measures to help Greece address its problems.

~Lucas Papademos

We must all assume out responsibilities to take the country forward.

~Lucas Papademos

I think the funds that have been pledged at Euro Summit combined with the outcome of the private sector involvement process should be sufficient in order to support financially the Greek economy.

~Lucas Papademos

So it won't be a surprise when the Greek default actually happens and we expect it one way or the other to be relatively soon.

~Lucas Papademos

Dealing with Greece's problems will be more difficult if Greece is not a member of the eurozone.

~Lucas Papademos

I am not a politician but I have dedicated the biggest part of my professional life to economic policy both in Greece and Europe.

~Lucas Papademos

I think achieving a higher fiscal stability is also a very important condition for restoring an environment which is conducive to growth...

~Lucas Papademos

Our eurozone partners have made it clear: The choice is between staying in or getting out of the eurozone.
