No matter where we come from or where we're going, we've all got memories to contend with, and it's always best not to do this alone!

~Madeleine Peyroux

My father had a varied ear, from Hank Williams to Ravel.

~Madeleine Peyroux

The wonderful thing about Jazz is its willingness to take chances.

~Madeleine Peyroux

My parents were older than normal when they had me, and had been very into the politics of the 1960s, so I was brought up in that atmosphere.

~Madeleine Peyroux

It's great to have other people's help. Then the music gets heard. There's a lot more commercial support for that now.

~Madeleine Peyroux

Second records aren't usually very good. Even Bob Dylan's was a bit disappointing.

~Madeleine Peyroux

Once I was in the city, I really enjoyed it. Just to experience things. There was so much new stuff.

~Madeleine Peyroux

It's wonderful to work with someone with mentor status.

~Madeleine Peyroux

I've always loved singing. I find it exhilarating.

~Madeleine Peyroux

I love playing to people and seeing them react.

~Madeleine Peyroux

I had my guitar and some talent so that I could make friends with intelligent people and could talk my way out of difficult situations.

~Madeleine Peyroux

I was just learning to play guitar when Tracy Chapman came out. She wrote these songs, she played them by herself and I so admired her for that.

~Madeleine Peyroux

I'm very conscious of developing my singing, technically and stylistically. I want it to become more individual, express more of me. That's my goal. These songs are steps along that way.
