Note to self: Never ride a motorcycle in stilettos and a miniskirt.

~Maggie Grace

There's just certain things you don't think about to enjoy a film. Bullets in space are one of them.

~Maggie Grace

Talking about relationships is a surefire way to jinx them.

~Maggie Grace

I used to trip over my legs and get detention for my too-short shorts because none fit. I still trip, but now I like to show them off.

~Maggie Grace

Indian-styled garments are very popular in the U.S., especially in areas near the beach, like Hawaii and Los Angeles.

~Maggie Grace

I collect imported teas, I have a few cupboards full! It's like wine, each has it's own flavour and you get into their little nuances.

~Maggie Grace

I can definitely be tough when pushed. In relationships, you have to take a stand for who you are and how you're willing to be treated.

~Maggie Grace

A first kiss is hard to fake on screen. It's tempting to practice before you shoot, but why blow that natural awkwardness on a rehearsal? There's something so beautiful about it that can't be faked.

~Maggie Grace

Every actor who has done an action film has a little tiny scar somewhere from that.

~Maggie Grace

I believe love at first sight is possible. Centuries of literature and art and beauty has been dedicated to that idea, so who am I to argue, even if I've never experienced it?

~Maggie Grace

I put Liam at the top of the list, the male actor list, because I had just seen Schindler's List again and Michael Collins, and I was just like, 'God, what an incredible actor.'

~Maggie Grace

Ice-skating is a dangerous proposition and tennis is going to be something I'm probably not very good at.

~Maggie Grace

I trip over my legs all the time. I'll wave to somebody, look up, and end up eating pavement.

~Maggie Grace

I think as far as the action genre goes, I like when it has a sense of humor. I'm a Jane Austen/Jane Eyre kind of girl.

~Maggie Grace

I used to be really insecure about my self-education. I'm definitely always learning. But there's many ways to learn. There are many, many ways to always be a learner.

~Maggie Grace

I am very superstitious about toasts. I never toast with water, and I'm very careful to make eye contact with everyone I toast with.

~Maggie Grace

When you're doing a Broadway show, you have no free time.

~Maggie Grace

I'm a Jane Austen/Jane Eyre kind of girl.

~Maggie Grace

I'm a prolific overanalyzer. And I can always use 15 words in place of three 3, no matter what.
