Reconciliation requires changes of heart and spirit, as well as social and economic change. It requires symbolic as well as practical action.

~Malcolm Fraser

Life wasn't meant to be easy.

~Malcolm Fraser

We are lagging far behind comparable countries in overcoming the disadvantages Indigenous people face.

~Malcolm Fraser

Solutions will not be found while Indigenous people are treated as victims for whom someone else must find solutions.

~Malcolm Fraser

We are seeing healing among the stolen generations, and initiatives which are enabling Indigenous people to make their distinctive contribution to our national life.

~Malcolm Fraser

There are no quick fixes to Indigenous poverty and social disaster.

~Malcolm Fraser

Yet there are thousands of Indigenous people searching for family members.

~Malcolm Fraser

He (Gorton) is not fit to hold the great office of Prime Minister.

~Malcolm Fraser

I think the climate is too important to say we are going to wait until all our economic woes are over before we act effectively.

~Malcolm Fraser

The great task of statesmanship is to apply past lessons to new situations, to draw correct analogies to understand and act upon present forces, to recognise the need for change.

~Malcolm Fraser

I want to catch Mr Whitlam with his pants down.

~Malcolm Fraser

Maoris now own over half the commercial fishing industry in New Zealand.

~Malcolm Fraser

People die because they find living too painful.

~Malcolm Fraser

Sorry Day falls on the eve of Reconciliation Week, giving us the chance to ask whether we are making progress in the wider challenge of reconciling Indigenous and other Australians.
