In the whole round of human affairs little is so fatal to peace as misunderstanding.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Spring is beautiful, and summer is perfect for vacations, but autumn brings a longing to get away from the unreal things of life, out into the forest at night with a campfire and the rustling leaves.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Our daughters are the most precious of our treasures, the dearest possessions of our homes and the objects of our most watchful love.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

No one should teach who is not in love with teaching.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

The people who dream are very often the people who see, and dreaming and seeing precede doing.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Never yet was a springtime, when the buds forgot to bloom.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Kindness is the truest wisdom of life and we cannot go far without it.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

I thank you, God, in Heaven, for friends.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

At Christmas-tide the open hand Scatters its bounty o'er sea and land,
And none are left to grieve alone, For Love is heaven and claims its own.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

In very truth it is the unattained which gives zest to the commonplace and brims the cup of our daily life with keenest joy.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

... Love is heaven and claims its own.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Creative genius is a divinely bestowed gift which is the coronation of the few.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

It isn't the thing you do, dear, it's the thing you leave undone which gives you a bit of heartache at the setting of the sun.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

There's nothing half so pleasant as coming home again.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Books have been to me what gold is to the miser, what new fields are to the explorer.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Not always the fanciest cake that's there is the best to eat!

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Self-complacency is fatal to progress.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Memory is a trustworthy servant as long as it is made to serve.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Every child's birthright is a happy home.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Mind does dominate body. We are superior to the house in which we dwell.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Out of the chill and the shadow, into the thrill and the shine. Out of the dearth and the famine, into the fulness divine.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

In home life contentment is an essential to daily comfort. One discontented person in the house creates an atmosphere fatal to tranquillity.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Broadly speaking, nervous women may be divided into two classes - those who are really nervous, and those who imagine themselves to be so.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

A letter is the most imperishable thing on earth.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

Love is like fire, a dangerous thing to play with, although the best of friends and the most loyal of servants when rightly handled.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

My own opinion is that youthfulness of feeling is retained, as is youthfulness of appearance, by constant use of the intellect.

~Margaret Elizabeth Sangster

One of the first things to be noted in business life is its imperialism. Business is exacting, engrossing, and inelastic.
