A tree without roots will fall over, whereas a tree with roots eventually becomes part of a forest.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

I hope people will remember me as one who did her best - and who wasn't an anachronism.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

I can, of course, think what I want, just like everyone else. I simply have to refrain from saying everything I think.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

I will remain on the throne until I fall off.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

And when we are tolerant, we must know whether it is because of convenience or conviction.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

I smoke wherever there's an ashtray.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

I have always had a dread of becoming a passenger in life.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

I hope I will be able to paint as long as I live.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

I am not a career woman, and I would never have become one in normal life, because I am not ambitious enough for that.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

The time that I devote to painting is not a lot of time, but I do it 100 percent while I am working, and then there's nothing else that counts.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

None of my counterparts in Europe interferes in politics.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

Painting is not what my life is about, but it is very important to me, and I am very lucky to be able to give some time to it.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

I believe that the fact that I am religious brings me closer to anyone with a different faith.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

There are indeed ways for a queen to say what she thinks.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

Luther and the Reformation were of fundamental importance to Denmark. We Danes are still Lutherans today. We spoke about him a lot in school, and we feel very close to him.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

The Reformation was immensely important for all of Danish culture.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

Luther exerted a strong influence on Denmark. Suddenly Danish theologians were preaching in Danish and translating the Bible into Danish.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

I represent all people who are citizens of the Danish nation.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

Under the constitution, as the Danish queen I am bound to the Lutheran faith, but that does not exclude people of other faiths.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

In Denmark, the king's faith became the religion of the country, and we are still happy with that today.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

My father had no sons, so I became queen. The only thing I had to do was perform the role.

~Margrethe II of Denmark

I would not say Denmark is a multicultural country, but more people live here now who have different roots, backgrounds and religions, more than 30 years ago. This also applies to religions.
