Young women especially have something invested in being nice people, and it's only when you have children that you realize you're not a nice person at all, but generally a selfish bully.

~Marjorie Holmes

Let me remember that each life must follow its own course, and that what happens to other people has absolutely nothing to do with what happens to me.

~Marjorie Holmes

Death is the perfect knowing.

~Marjorie Holmes

simply to ask a blessing upon one's circumstances, whatever they are, is somehow to improve them, and to tap some mysterious source of energy and joy.

~Marjorie Holmes

A child's hand in yours - what tenderness and power it arouses. You are instantly the very touchstone of wisdom and strength.

~Marjorie Holmes

The man or woman who treasures his friends is usually solid gold himself.

~Marjorie Holmes

When you write from the heart, you not only light the dark path of your readers, you light your own way as well.

~Marjorie Holmes

the habit of shutting doors behind us is invaluable to happiness; we must learn to shut life's doors to cut out the futile wind of past mistakes.

~Marjorie Holmes

Man is the only creature whose emotions are entangled with his memory.

~Marjorie Holmes

There must be some deep psychological reason why we turn so instinctively toward home at this special time. . . . A place where every day will be Christmas, with everybody there together. At home.

~Marjorie Holmes

Thank you, God, for the dignity and beauty of self. The precious innate self. The only thing that can't be taken from us. The only thing we really own.

~Marjorie Holmes

Prayer, to the thinking person, is almost inescapable.

~Marjorie Holmes

poetry ... is another way to be hurled straight into the heart of God.
