I never really thought we'd fitted into the cross-over drawer. But I think the real Sugar Ray fans did like us because we always had variety and because we experimented a lot.

~Mark McGrath

You know how it is with drawers and labels in the music business. They don't want anything to be complicated. They just want it simple, as simple as possible.

~Mark McGrath

Today they're praising you sky high, place you on a pedestal and tomorrow they don't want to know you.

~Mark McGrath

As a lead singer, all I want to do is be in my own head and think about how great I am. That's a lead singer's disease.

~Mark McGrath

I love to perform. I've never lost the urge. I've never once been on stage when I didn't want to be.

~Mark McGrath

As a performer, I want to hit the last row of the arena. I want to make big moves. I'm a spaz, naturally.

~Mark McGrath

I'm that crazy-ass drunk uncle that nobody wants to invite to the holidays and birthdays.

~Mark McGrath

None of the original love and feel for going on stage is gone. I'm not a true singer. I'm performer, and I need to be on stage.

~Mark McGrath

You can make low-budget film as long as there is something compelling about the characters. There is a believability in the chemistry and a likeability amongst the characters.

~Mark McGrath

When I go to karaoke, I'm still the worst guy there.

~Mark McGrath

I'm a huge boxing fan. I love the strategy and the combat.

~Mark McGrath

When you become a commodity to a record label because you're making them millions of dollars, you can take all of your artistic integrity and throw it out the window.

~Mark McGrath

Whether it's five people or 50,000 people, I always love to perform and feel very blessed that I'm able to do that.

~Mark McGrath

Acting is about listening, and that's something that took me awhile. You almost don't have to learn your lines, if you listen to what they're saying and move it along.

~Mark McGrath

You might be feeling sick or a little down, but the second you hit the stage and hear the crowd, you're ready to perform. That's what a true performer is.

~Mark McGrath

I can answer anything about any American pop culture song ever.

~Mark McGrath

You know, I'm not real tall. I'm 6'0, 6'½, but I think people think I'm shorter than I am because I'm not the most muscular cat in the world.

~Mark McGrath
