America's commitment to religious freedom and tolerance should not be conditional.

~Mark McKinnon

To pull off successful attacks in debates, you have to execute with nuance and subtlety. It has to be artful.

~Mark McKinnon

My brother is one of my true heroes. Steady and sober where I am impulsive and emotional.

~Mark McKinnon

As history has repeatedly proven, one trade tariff begets another, then another - until you've got a full-blown trade war. No one ever wins, and consumers always get screwed.

~Mark McKinnon

Technology and social media have brought power back to the people.

~Mark McKinnon

Go Hard or Go Home, but never go home hard!

~Mark McKinnon

Democrats love to criticize Republicans on guns, but they are generally mute when it comes to taking on Hollywood or the gaming industry.

~Mark McKinnon

I don't really care how or why Obama got to the right place on gay marriage. I'm just glad he got there.

~Mark McKinnon

Debates require a lot of hard work and preparation. If you try to wing it, it shows.

~Mark McKinnon

I prefer for government to err toward less regulation, lower taxation, and free markets. And I'm a radical free trader.

~Mark McKinnon

Marketers know - no matter how deep the emotional connection or brand loyalty - when a product does not perform, rational thought overtakes emotion, and most consumers make a new choice.

~Mark McKinnon

It's much more powerful and compelling to create a positive vision than it is to tear somebody down.

~Mark McKinnon

At some point he has to show that he has a vision of a better way. He can't just say 'The future is bleak, follow me.' Because no one will.

~Mark McKinnon

Reasonable people can reasonably disagree on policy.

~Mark McKinnon

There's no question that many factors contribute to voters' perceptions about debates and who wins and who loses.

~Mark McKinnon

Negativity drove me out of politics in the mid-Nineties.

~Mark McKinnon

Elections are about the future. And the GOP will not win a campaign focused on the past.

~Mark McKinnon

If we cannot come together to pause, to respect our dead and the heroic lives of meaning they led, then ours is truly a civilization lost.

~Mark McKinnon

As a husband and as a father of girls, I cannot imagine any woman in my family making the sacrifice of sanity required to run for office. The limited reward for public service cannot blunt the cost.

~Mark McKinnon

A competition of the best ideas - that should be what Congress is about.

~Mark McKinnon

Mitt Romney is a businessman, a turnaround artist, a CEO. That is who he is. The former governor has experience in the public and private sector.

~Mark McKinnon

As in nature, politics abhors a vacuum. Without a strong voice for more moderate leadership, the Tea Party is filling that vacuum.

~Mark McKinnon

A Rick Santorum presidency would be very, very dangerous for America.

~Mark McKinnon

Hypocrisy is the scarlet letter in politics.

~Mark McKinnon

I've spent the better part of my career in politics and public policy working on and fighting for education reforms.

~Mark McKinnon

I'm saying it loud: I'm a Republican who supports gay rights.

~Mark McKinnon

Democracy is but an experiment in the long history of the world.

~Mark McKinnon

Limited government, low taxes, controlled spending and debt, and a restrained regulatory environment make Texas work.

~Mark McKinnon

Defending birthright citizenship is about being on the right side of liberty. The 14th Amendment is a great legacy of the Republican Party.

~Mark McKinnon

As a Republican, I never expected to be working with Hillary Clinton.

~Mark McKinnon

America as we know it will end unless we end Medicare as we know it.

~Mark McKinnon

A messy participatory process is representative democracy at its best.
