I'm very organized and tidy in my home life and I generally do something myself rather than farm it out to somebody else. I don't have an assistant or anything because I think I can do it myself.

~Mark Strong

The idea of transformation - playing something I'm not - is the bit I enjoy most about acting.

~Mark Strong

I've played lots of villains in my time and I think the reason they've been so successful is that they're not two-dimensional. They're not black and white. That's the gig.

~Mark Strong

I think it serves the purpose of the film if the premise is that you're unsure of me because you've only ever really seen me play villains.

~Mark Strong

I loved making The Imitation Game and it's really gratifying to hear the audience's response to the character that I play.

~Mark Strong

The Peugeot is a very unthreatening car.

~Mark Strong

Rowan Joffe is very specific. I mean, he wrote it as well and he has a very orderly writer's mind and the same applies to his directing.

~Mark Strong

The important bit for an actor is the actual shooting of it, because the minute the shoot ends, it's got nothing to do with you anymore.

~Mark Strong

When you're making a psychological thriller, what you need to do is have an audience on shifting sand so they're never quite sure where they are.

~Mark Strong

In the past, if I didn't work, I didn't eat but now I feel I can not work and I won't starve.

~Mark Strong
