Whatever I hear in my head is what I play.

~Marketa Irglova

I trust the flow of life.

~Marketa Irglova

Fair play to all those who dare to dream and don't give up.

~Marketa Irglova

The songs, if I write alone in a room, end up being a little more quiet, a little more subdued. If I play with other musicians or percussive instruments, it might end up being a little more upbeat.

~Marketa Irglova

Music has always been a part of me and art in general. I love visual art as well.

~Marketa Irglova

When I moved to New York, I felt very strong emotionally and mentally. Aside from touring, I'd spent a couple of years alone and because of that, I was able to go out in the world again.

~Marketa Irglova

Often times, I'm surprised by what I'm writing or what I'm playing, and then that inspires me to keep going with it, so it ends up being a very adventurous process.

~Marketa Irglova

I feel energized walking off stage.

~Marketa Irglova

Experiencing deep sadness can, sometimes, heighten your ability to feel joy.
