

Martha Plimpton

Quotes

People, Thinking, Character, Mom, Way, Real, Long, Country, Speak, Years, Children, Dark, Hate, Dog, Funny, Fun, Past, Want, Bored, House

I am not a morning person. I like to sleep in.

~Martha Plimpton

When you're working with good people it brings good things out in you.

~Martha Plimpton

I like cluttered, old, dark-wood antiques. I like character.

~Martha Plimpton

I would almost rather be in debt constantly than work with horrible people that I hate.

~Martha Plimpton

During my teen years, for Halloween, I went as a registered voter.

~Martha Plimpton

I don't pay attention to the ratings.

~Martha Plimpton

It's important to me if I'm having a good time than I feel like the work is better. The quality of it is better and my level of interest is higher.

~Martha Plimpton

I am a fierce patriot, and I try to be outspoken about my beliefs.

~Martha Plimpton

I'm hoping maybe people like working with me because I like what I do for a living and I want to have a good time.

~Martha Plimpton

That's the thing about interviews, at some point you're going to change your mind. But it's there forever and you can't escape it.

~Martha Plimpton

I feel comfortable in the presence of oddity. Probably because I'm a little bit odd.

~Martha Plimpton

It's long past time we started focusing on the solutions that actually keep women healthy, instead of using basic aspects of women's health as a tool of cultural, moral, and political control.

~Martha Plimpton

If I'm enjoying myself, I find my opportunities for more fun become greater.

~Martha Plimpton

I watch things that are fun, or funny, or interesting.

~Martha Plimpton

I hate those people who say 'I don't own a television' - I own one and I watch it whenever I can.

~Martha Plimpton

I want to be true to the character and maintain some consistency and give the audience what they love while at the same time keeping things fresh and grow the character.

~Martha Plimpton

My mom just didn't put a very high premium on me being like really famous or really wealthy or anything.

~Martha Plimpton

I wasn't paraded around for sale at all. My mother wasn't into that.

~Martha Plimpton

I just want to be clear, I am a very dark and bitter person, but I think on some level, everything really does come when it's meant to come.

~Martha Plimpton

It's not common for a woman on television, especially if she's the mom of the family, to be funny. She's usually a straight man or foil.

~Martha Plimpton

I prefer to think of the audience as a single living organism with which I am sharing a singular, never-to-be-repeated experience.

~Martha Plimpton

It's easier to lecture women on sexual morality than it is to explain why all Americans shouldn't have comprehensive, fair, and equal health care coverage.

~Martha Plimpton

I love dogs because they're so adaptable.

~Martha Plimpton

I don't know if I've learned anything about people, but I've learned about Twitter.

~Martha Plimpton

I am not bored at all. I am not bored in the least.

~Martha Plimpton

Who owns your body? You or the state?

~Martha Plimpton

I almost never have a plan for myself... I'm not ambitious in that way.

~Martha Plimpton

Women have always been at the forefront of progressive movements. Women can be depended on when you need bodies in the streets for women's rights and human rights.

~Martha Plimpton

I don't like to get bored and don't like to repeat myself.

~Martha Plimpton

It's an unusual situation for me to be working and making a living.

~Martha Plimpton

There are an infinite number of ways to be moved in the theater.

~Martha Plimpton

It's a very long and difficult schedule on a single-camera show.

~Martha Plimpton

Very often a job will come along that speaks to the place you're in as a person at that very moment. And usually once I've done it I feel like that part is over.

~Martha Plimpton

I wouldnt say Malkovich is totally insane, but hes not living in the real world. Hes living in his world, which is a fine world to live in apparently.

~Martha Plimpton

There are so many brilliant women on television right now.

~Martha Plimpton

In the theater, as an actor, you're welcoming people into your house.

~Martha Plimpton

Women know the financial, social and physical costs of not having access to basic health care.

~Martha Plimpton

Things come to you in life when you're prepared for them, when you're ready for them.

~Martha Plimpton

I like things that are civilized.

~Martha Plimpton

We don't want to come off as pro-smoking. Even though we didn't smoke real cigarettes at all, you want to be careful of people's sensitivities.

~Martha Plimpton

You'll notice my eyes have sort of glazed over.

~Martha Plimpton

Being nominated is the win. For me, being nominated is winning. It's just unbelievable.

~Martha Plimpton

At this point, I don't get hired a lot because people don't think I could finance a movie.

~Martha Plimpton

As an actress for most of my life, I am profoundly familiar with poverty.

~Martha Plimpton

Actors, they come and go, you know.

~Martha Plimpton

The word 'equality' shows up too much in our founding documents for anyone to pretend it's not the American way.

~Martha Plimpton

A lot of people in this country right now are living with multiple generations under one roof, struggling to make ends meet.

~Martha Plimpton

People seem to think that you should be willing to speak to them whether they're jerks or not.

~Martha Plimpton

I am a United States citizen and I vote.

~Martha Plimpton

Independent film is not only an oxymoron; it doesn't exist anymore.

~Martha Plimpton

One comes to a decision based on what one wants, not based on what one doesn't want. Got it?

~Martha Plimpton

I've had cats all my life and obviously loved them, but the litter box, and the having to always get a house sitter, they're just too - they're too rigid. Cats are too needy somehow.

~Martha Plimpton

I live like a crazy old pack rat.

~Martha Plimpton

I've been doing old-people things since I was a child.

~Martha Plimpton

Things tend to come when they are meant to come. I know that sounds kind of like spiritual and cheesy, but I think things come when they're meant to come.

~Martha Plimpton

Related Links:

- People Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Character Quotes
- Mom Quotes
- Way Quotes
- Real Quotes
- Long Quotes
- Country Quotes
- Speak Quotes
- Years Quotes
- Children Quotes
- Dark Quotes
- Hate Quotes
- Dog Quotes
- Funny Quotes
- Fun Quotes
- Past Quotes
- Want Quotes
- Bored Quotes
- House Quotes