Being a mod is more of a sensibility than a style.

~Martin Freeman

You could say I'm a mod, but with a small 'm'; I don't wear a parka, but I do question what I wear and what I listen to, which is what it's all about.

~Martin Freeman

Name anything - high-definition TV, computer obsolescence - and I'm pretty much annoyed by it.

~Martin Freeman

I'm not posh or common, I'm in between.

~Martin Freeman

I love that pre-mod jazz look of the late Fifties, the Steve McQueen style that influenced the British modernists.

~Martin Freeman

I've got a stag weekend coming up and I've said I'm not doing anything more than a few drinks. I won't have it. I'll go home and watch Antiques Roadshow.

~Martin Freeman

Most people have a passive relationship with music and clothes, with culture. But music was my first contact with anything creative. Music is it, as far as I'm concerned.

~Martin Freeman

I hate the fact that so much of our life is computerised rather than mechanised.

~Martin Freeman

True heroics, obviously, is not the absence of fear, but having that fear and doing something anyway.

~Martin Freeman

Sherlock and Watson are a love story

~Martin Freeman

Disappointment is an endless wellspring of comedy inspiration.

~Martin Freeman

The great thing about getting older is that you learn not to care about being cool. I'm happy with who I am, I know what I like and I can't see myself changingâ€¦ not for a little while, at least.

~Martin Freeman

I'm a big believer that life changes as much as you want it to.

~Martin Freeman

I would wear a full-length cape if I could get away with it - I do love a good swirl in a fog.

~Martin Freeman

There's a difference between the parts that I play and who I am and who people think I am. There's quite a big discrepancy sometimes between those things.

~Martin Freeman

My idea of a good night out is staying in.

~Martin Freeman

I've always loved Christmas and that's not really gone away from me from being a child to now. It's always a magical time and I'm unashamed in my love for Christmas.

~Martin Freeman

I like things that are simple, such as an alarm clock.

~Martin Freeman

Thank you, people of Emmyland. To be nominated in such company is an honour, especially for two shows that I'm immensely proud of. I'm delighted.

~Martin Freeman

I guess like any friendship, marriage, or whatever it is familiarity breeds more contempt, and more love. They're just more settled with each other now.

~Martin Freeman

All I can do is just do what I can do and not be hampered by knowing that some people won't like it.

~Martin Freeman

I've always got my eye on my deathbed.

~Martin Freeman

The one thing I've found is that someone always knows more than you do, including your babies. There are loads of things people presume I know about that I don't.

~Martin Freeman

Comedy can't be about continuous success.

~Martin Freeman

I like bootcut jeans in a plain style with a nice line.

~Martin Freeman

I'm one of the few people I know who believes in God.

~Martin Freeman

I don't think it was a surprise that I ended up as an actor, and it was anything but a disappointment.

~Martin Freeman

People misunderstand me.

~Martin Freeman

I only really watch my own films, I don't watch any other films and I don't particularly like any other actors.

~Martin Freeman

I like out, I like the outside world.

~Martin Freeman

I love home. I'd rather be at home than anywhere else.

~Martin Freeman

Most actors are either a shower of bloody scruffs or think they should dress like Hamlet off stage.

~Martin Freeman

Every actor is riddled with insecurity, of course. But weirdly, I don't really find that I'd be daunted with taking on roles or anything.

~Martin Freeman

I like the idea of not everything happening between two human beings to be everyone's property.

~Martin Freeman

There is nothing far-fetched about disappointment as a subject for comedy. It's something we are all too familiar with.

~Martin Freeman

I value being able to go into a record shop and people leaving me alone.

~Martin Freeman

I can spot someone with similar fashion sense to me a mile off.

~Martin Freeman

I buy DVDs. I don't really buy CDs unless they're for other people.

~Martin Freeman

However happy the director is, I have to be okay with it. I'm pretty strict with myself, about throwing things out or trying to be true to whatever the situation dictates.

~Martin Freeman

What makes Shakespeare eternal is his grasp of psychology. He knew how to nail stuff about us as human beings.

~Martin Freeman

You don't want your children to look at you like you are anything special other than their dad.

~Martin Freeman

I have a very extreme state of mind. Things are very black or very white.

~Martin Freeman

If you are a plumber, you can work on a shed, or you can work on a mansion. It's just scale.

~Martin Freeman

It's a bit like a fledgeling duck, finding your flippers.

~Martin Freeman

Like with anything, good writing suggest itself pretty strongly.

~Martin Freeman

I've been doing interviews for years, and in all that time, I've virtually never read one and gone, 'Yep, factually and tonally that's exactly what happened.' Pretty much never.

~Martin Freeman

When I wear jeans I want to look like a man, not a child.

~Martin Freeman

I hope I inspire children to make films.

~Martin Freeman

Why does everyone have to pretend to be stupid and not know long words?

~Martin Freeman

Acting is the only thing I'm even vaguely good at and acting is something that I think I do know about.

~Martin Freeman

I look like the man in the moon.

~Martin Freeman

I was probably cool around the end of 2002.
