

Marv Albert Quotes

Games, Play, Boys, Kids, Years, Sports, Practice, Scream, Eight, Annoyed, Nba, Mirrors, Thug, New York, Thinking, Ping Pong, Feet, Court, Color, Vintage

It's impossible to work under conditions where they confused negativity with objectivity. You can't fool the fans.

~Marv Albert

In radio, you are the game, so to speak - you have to describe every aspect. In TV, I've always felt less is more, and it's really a question of my setting up the color analyst more than anything else.

~Marv Albert

Steve Kerr, now coaching Golden State after eight tumultuous and very inconsistent years at TNT.

~Marv Albert

If Justin Bieber was 7 feet tall, he'd look like [Meyers Leonard] that.

~Marv Albert

In 1957, I was a 16-year-old office boy for the Dodgers.

~Marv Albert

I would never scream at my kids, never raise my voice. But as they often tell me, they were so well behaved that screaming was not necessary.

~Marv Albert

There are people in New York who feel I should have more of a hometown approach. I feel we have to be a mirror and reflect what's happening on the court.

~Marv Albert

Phil Jackson would fight his own players in practice.

~Marv Albert

Game calls can't be just, Oh, by the way, as part of a larger discussion.

~Marv Albert

I was a Knicks fan of the Kenny Sears-Carl Braun-Jim Baechtold vintage. I was even their ball boy when I was a teenager.

~Marv Albert

My on-the-court game was ordinary. I had a jumper but needed screens. I could go right but not left.

~Marv Albert

My strong game was ping pong. Relentless... steady.

~Marv Albert

There's a fine line between physical and thug ball, and the Knicks have crossed the line on occasion.

~Marv Albert

Related Links:

- Games Quotes
- Play Quotes
- Boys Quotes
- Kids Quotes
- Years Quotes
- Sports Quotes
- Practice Quotes
- Scream Quotes
- Eight Quotes
- Annoyed Quotes
- Nba Quotes
- Mirrors Quotes
- Thug Quotes
- New York Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Ping Pong Quotes
- Feet Quotes
- Court Quotes
- Color Quotes
- Vintage Quotes