Pure love ... knows that only one thing is needed to please God: to do even the smallest things out of great love - love, and always love.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

Patience, prayer and silence-these are what give strength to the soul.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

Help me, O Lord, that my hands may be merciful and filled with good deeds, so that I may do only good to my neighbors.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

Suffering is the greatest treasure on earth; it purifies the soul. In suffering, we learn who our true friend is.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

O King of glory, though you hide your beauty, yet the eye of my soul rends the veil. I see the angelic choirs giving you honor without cease.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

He who wants to learn true humility should reflect upon the Passion of Jesus. (267)

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

Entrust everything to Me and do nothing on your own, and you will always have great freedom of spirit.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

I demand from you deeds of mercy which are to arise out of love for me. You are to show mercy to your neighbors always and everywhere. You must not shrink from this or try to excuse yourself from it.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

God is very generous and does not deny His grace to anyone. Indeed he gives more than what we ask of Him. Faithfulness to the inspirations of the Holy Spirit-that is the shortest route.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

How can one be pleasing to God when one is inflated with pride and self-love under the pretense of striving for Gods glory, while in fact one is seeking ones own glory?

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

My likeness to Jesus must be through suffering and humility.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

Now you shall consider My love in the Blessed Sacrament. Here, I am entirely yours, soul, body and divinity, as your Bridegroom. You know what love demands: one thing only, reciprocity.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

Love endures everything, love is stronger than death, love fears nothing.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

I saw the abyss of my misery; whatever there is of good in me is Yours, O Lord. But because I am so small and wretched, I have a right to count on Your boundless mercy.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

Suffering is a great grace; through suffering the soul becomes like the Saviour; in suffering love becomes crystallised; the greater the suffering, the purer the love.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

I know well that the greater and more beautiful the work is, the more terrible will be the storms that rage against it.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

If the angels were capable of envy, they would envy us for two things: one is the receiving of Holy Communion, and the other is suffering.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

Jesus, I trust in You.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

It is You Jesus, stretched out on the cross, who gives me strength and are always close to the suffering soul. Creatures will abandon a person in his suffering, but You, O Lord, are faithful.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

Sufferings, adversities, humiliations, failures and suspicions that have come my way are splinters that keep alive the fire of my love for You, O Jesus.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

The greatest misery does not stop Me from uniting Myself to a soul, but where there is pride, I am not there.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

True love is measured by the thermometer of suffering.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

Mankind will not have peace until it turns with trust to My mercy.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

Nothing is difficult for the humble.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

I thank God for this illness and these physical discomforts, because I have the time to converse with the Lord Jesus.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

A disobedient soul will win no victory, even if the Lord Jesus himself, in person, were to hear its confession.

~Mary Faustina Kowalska

O You Who are hidden, body, soul and divinity, Under the fragile form of bread, You are my life from Whom springs an abundance of graces; And, for me, You surpass the delights of Heaven.
