The art of writing is the art of applying the seat of the pants to the seat of the chair.

~Mary Heaton Vorse

All the laws made for the betterment of workers' lives have their origin with the workers. Hours are shortened, wages go up, conditions are better----only if the workers protest any peace movement must have behind it a higher passion than the desire for war.

~Mary Heaton Vorse

~Mary Heaton Vorse

I am trying for nothing so hard in my own personal life as how not to be respectable when married.

~Mary Heaton Vorse

... peace is a militant thing ... any peace movement must have behind it a higher passion than the desire for war. No one can be a pacifist without being ready to fight for peace and die for peace.

~Mary Heaton Vorse

In the last analysis civilization itself is measured by the way in which children will live and what chance they will have in the world

~Mary Heaton Vorse

We can always find noble reasons for what we want to do.

~Mary Heaton Vorse

Gathering news in Russia was like mining coal with a hat pin.

~Mary Heaton Vorse

It was the spirit of the workers that was dangerous. The tired, gray crowds ebbing and flowing perpetually into the mills had waked and opened their mouths to sing.

~Mary Heaton Vorse

We all marry strangers. All men are strangers to all women.

~Mary Heaton Vorse

... no one knows anything about a strike until he has seen it break down into its component parts of human beings.
