Do goofy stories make people nice? What if, in their goofiness, these stories somehow inspire that in the right way. Is that a social good?

~Matt Stone

I hate conservatives, but I really hate liberals.

~Matt Stone

With religion I was always like, 'Does it matter if it's true if it makes you happy?'

~Matt Stone

The culture is just so coarse that you have to take it to that level and people will be like, 'Whoa!' And then you can make people think about stuff. It's kind of like shock therapy.

~Matt Stone

Anybody in television lives under grinding deadlines.

~Matt Stone

The last few years on 'South Park' we have done some of the riskiest things we have ever done, knowing it could kill the show, but we also know that's what we have to do.

~Matt Stone

That decision to commit your life to certain principles and a certain narrative, if I wrote a paper on that, I know I'd find inconsistencies.

~Matt Stone

There's something uniquely aggravating about the smugness of liberal Hollywood.

~Matt Stone

I love to musicalize things. You do employ a whole level of gravity. You use the emotional heft of music.

~Matt Stone

We've rewritten entire scenes and had them animated twelve hours before the show goes on the air. It's not fun.

~Matt Stone

And there's a visceral fun in watching Team America and making it, like taking a puppet and throwing it against the wall. Because it's not CG, there's something funny about it.

~Matt Stone

Sometimes we come up with something great, but a lot of times it just feels like work.

~Matt Stone

I'm concerned about people being happy.

~Matt Stone

We've been around long enough and have been to enough award shows to know that it is easy to lose to Phil Collins at any time.

~Matt Stone

Even celebrities, most people have a sense of humor. Most of the people we meet who we've done on the show, like it.

~Matt Stone

We are entertainers. We're trying to entertain people.

~Matt Stone

Sometimes I wish I could get fired.

~Matt Stone

It is like football with coaches, like, 'We're only going to think about the next game.' It is really true, all you think is, 'Okay, we have to make a good next episode.'

~Matt Stone

The pride of the hipster food movement is sort of annoying, but it fascinates me.

~Matt Stone

There are good characters and bad characters.

~Matt Stone

I went to a couple Academy Awards parties and I was definitely like, 'Whoa, no one will talk to me.'

~Matt Stone

I would never want the show to be a Democrat show or Republican show, because for us the show's more important than that. It isn't for everybody else in the world, but it is for us.

~Matt Stone

I just get my news from the Internet.

~Matt Stone

In our show, there's usually a comeuppance. Or, if not, it's an anti-ending. And you're supposed to get that.

~Matt Stone

I've been to China and Russia, and I don't know anything about Chinese or Soviet relations.

~Matt Stone

Once you get yourselves into things that are working on a deeper level, you just have to keep going. When you reach that deeper level, you can't go back.

~Matt Stone

We're kind of like the smoking section in high school. We're immature, keep to ourselves.

~Matt Stone

Anything you do to lose weight should be as easy as it can possibly be and still deliver results.

~Matt Stone

I think the neoatheists have set atheism back a few decades. And I'm a self-described atheist.

~Matt Stone

When you reach that deeper level, you can't go back.

~Matt Stone

I'm a producer... I am a Hollywood producer. That is so weird. And it's not lame. But it's just like, how did that happen?

~Matt Stone

I would vote for a Mormon.
