A man should be rugged like Steve McQueen; the way he stands, like he's ready for something. Or he should be a man of the world like Dean Martin.

~Maureen McCormick

There were also other things, but this was a big factor. It's sad, because she [Eve Plumb] was my best friend. We went through a lot together.

~Maureen McCormick

If you aren't going to do something all the way, don't do it.

~Maureen McCormick

This thing in society that you have to be a stick will always be in my mind, but that's just something I have to deal with.

~Maureen McCormick

Stars now also have problems with drugs, and it can be even harder being so out in the public eye - it's hard for them to keep their sanity and normal self present, but they can do it.

~Maureen McCormick

I didn't think I could be my imperfect self. I pretended I was Marcia, so I was always playing this role. I became her, but yet I wasn't. It's strange.

~Maureen McCormick

If you have a problem, try to get help, you can get through it if you get help.

~Maureen McCormick

As soon as I hear the word "competition" I get serious and start doing everything that I can do.

~Maureen McCormick

Toby Keith, when you wake up tomorrow there's still going to be liberals in the world, mexicans and blacks, Muslims and Jews and high school graduates...and everyone else who hates your music.
