So many groups fail because they spend all their time in the clubs. Work pours in and they can't handle it because of late-night drinking.

~Maurice Gibb

As an alcoholic, you have no appreciation for your wife or your children's feelings, but I'm making up for that now. I'm winning my children's trust back.

~Maurice Gibb

The most important thing about recovery is to pass the message on.

~Maurice Gibb

I was always the one left behind. Out in the streets, when they saw me they'd say, That's just one of the Bee Gees.

~Maurice Gibb

I'll be honest. We copied everyone... the Beatles, the Bachelors. It was the only way people would even listen to you.

~Maurice Gibb

We don't mind being ripped apart, but don't rip the songs apart. They're like our kids.

~Maurice Gibb

I write the music because I can't really write lyrics. But I can write chords like Robin's never heard of. So I provide the music for them to add the lyrics to.

~Maurice Gibb

I suppose being his twin made me understand Robin that much more easily.

~Maurice Gibb

I was always the sexy bass player in the background while Robin stood centre. Barry and I played it up a bit, gave 'em a bit of thigh.

~Maurice Gibb

No one knew me until I met my wife Lulu. Lulu's mother used to ask, Which one is Maurice? For six months she thought Lulu was dating Barry.

~Maurice Gibb

I heard my brother's voice even though we were apart. I then answered the phone and found him on the line.

~Maurice Gibb

It's very hard to write a song alone. It's only by jamming that you can get a song together.

~Maurice Gibb

We worked for 11 years to get where we are today, and I want to take our work seriously so that later on I'll be able to appreciate the money we've made.

~Maurice Gibb

When Andy died, I just drank to dumb my mind.

~Maurice Gibb

I think we have to act like stars because it is expected of us. So we drive our big cars and live in our smart houses.

~Maurice Gibb

I'm not a big blues fan, but I don't know anyone who doesn't dig B.B. King.

~Maurice Gibb

They don't bother too much with the balance and things on blues records.

~Maurice Gibb

Elton wanted a garden. They were building all afternoon while we were rehearsing. And then they built a fountain for Elton. And he said, I was only joking!

~Maurice Gibb

FOR a while, I'd never had the opportunity to prove on TV that I could play the piano.

~Maurice Gibb
