Real love cannot be silent in the face of injustice.

~Mel White

In my lowest moments, when I genuinely longed for death, I knew that Jesus would walk with me through that valley as well.

~Mel White

I am gay. I am proud. And God loves me without reservation.

~Mel White

Fundamentalist Christianity is not just a threat to lesbians and gays, but to all Americans who cherish democracy and the rights and protections guaranteed us by the U.S. constitution.

~Mel White

When you stand with the outcasts, you stand with Jesus, and when you despise the outcast, you despise Jesus, as well. Becoming an activist is simply a matter of putting love into action.

~Mel White

The words 'God is love' conclude a biblical warning, not a warm and fuzzy slogan. 'He who doesn't love [his neighbor] doesn't love God, for God is love.'

~Mel White

There's something in the cross that says this is not just about my "salvation" but about the "salvation" of all those who suffer injustice and inequality.

~Mel White

It would be catastrophic if one day these fundamentalists Christians gain enough political power to enforce their literal understanding of Mosaic Law.

~Mel White

Doing justice, loving mercy, seeking truth...these are the issues [the Bible] is clear on.

~Mel White

My commitment to the Bible [is my] source of progressive values.

~Mel White

I am convinced that Christian fundamentalism is a far greater threat to this country than Muslim terrorists could ever be.

~Mel White

Because of their excessive commitment to a literal Bible, fundamentalist Christians have fallen into the trap of biblioltry.

~Mel White

It's beginning to feel like there is no room in America for anyone who is not a fundamentalist Christian.

~Mel White

During my time in the entourages of Jerry Falwell and Pat Robertson, I never saw either of them attack and punish those who disagree, as Dobson does on a regular basis.

~Mel White

Holy Terror: Lies the Christian Right Tells Us to Deny Gay Equality.
