I am a bit of a hopeless romantic. I really do have a faith and a belief in love, and when I love, I love hard.

~Melanie Fiona

The true essence of fashion is being able to reinvent yourself with what you have.

~Melanie Fiona

I'm a young girl with an old soul. I wanted to fuse the two together, the past and the present.

~Melanie Fiona

It's nice to have some anonymity and still be low key.

~Melanie Fiona

My dad still calls me and makes sure I'm taking my vitamins.

~Melanie Fiona

I live out of my suitcase and I'm happy to do so.

~Melanie Fiona

Once I started performing I knew that's what I wanted to do with my life. But you have to work really hard to be a performer.

~Melanie Fiona

When you're with your family you're with them and when you're working you're doing that. I definitely try to separate the time when I'm working and when I have my personal time.

~Melanie Fiona

I've admired Alicia Keys since before I got into the music industry, just everything she represents as a female artist.

~Melanie Fiona

Older audiences are hard to win over. They're very specific in their tastes and critical of new music.

~Melanie Fiona

Toronto is a very multicultural city, a place of immigrants, like my parents.

~Melanie Fiona

West Indian cultural mentality and a North American life equals the perfect balance.

~Melanie Fiona

Whitney Houston's voice was the very first voice I fell in love with. She was the voice that made me want to become a singer.

~Melanie Fiona

I feel like shoes are one of those things that no matter how conservative or how outrageous you get, a good pair of shoes is going to last you a lifetime.

~Melanie Fiona

Canada had the good health-care system and educational system. It was a privilege for me to grow up there.

~Melanie Fiona

I'm a first-generation Canadian.

~Melanie Fiona

Before I could even hold a pen I was singing.

~Melanie Fiona

I always feel like music should be a universal language.

~Melanie Fiona

I consider myself more of an international artist than I do a one-territory artist, which I think is a blessing.

~Melanie Fiona

I love Canada, always.

~Melanie Fiona

I love the freedom to do whatever I want with style and not be put into a box.

~Melanie Fiona

Canada can be tough for urban music.

~Melanie Fiona

I'm a drugstore beauty girl, I love going to the drugstore and buying makeup.

~Melanie Fiona

I rarely buy a shoe that is completely specific to a time and outfit. I generally tend to spend money on good shoes that can go with everything.
