Remember that in a hall of perfect darkness, totally dark, if you light one small candle, its light will be seen from afar; its precious light will be seen by everyone.

~Menachem Mendel Schneerson

Because time itself is like a spiral, something special happens on your birthday each year: The same energy that God invested in you at birth is present once again.

~Menachem Mendel Schneerson

When the soul is starved for nourishment, it lets us know with feelings of emptiness, anxiety, or yearning

~Menachem Mendel Schneerson

This is the key to time management - to see the value of every moment.

~Menachem Mendel Schneerson

You cannot add more minutes to the day, but you can utilize each one to the fullest.

~Menachem Mendel Schneerson

There is no need to accept the standards of the world at large.

~Menachem Mendel Schneerson

Our mission on earth is to recognize the void - inside and outside of us - and fill it.

~Menachem Mendel Schneerson

When you waste a moment, you have killed it in a sense, squandering an irreplaceable opportunity. But when you use the moment properly, filling it with purpose and productivity, it lives on forever.

~Menachem Mendel Schneerson

Without question, the material world and your everyday needs distract you from living meaningfully.

~Menachem Mendel Schneerson

Before the day begins, you are not yet engaged in any physical activities. And it is only physically that you are constrained by the limits of time and place; mentally, there are no such boundaries.

~Menachem Mendel Schneerson

Drink, eat, jump and dance as much as you can stand tonight, but not too much, because you are fifty now.

~Menachem Mendel Schneerson

We have been conditioned to see the passing of time as an adversary.

~Menachem Mendel Schneerson

But time is yet another of God's creations, and as such, it has a life of its own.

~Menachem Mendel Schneerson

We are always rushing to an appointment or trying to meet a deadline.
