Rugrats was my favorite cartoon growing up as a kid.

~Michael Angarano

I'm weirdly flexible, so when I dance, I dance like a 17-year-old girl.

~Michael Angarano

I love dancing, actually. My mother taught children's dance, ballet, tap, jazz...I'm very flexible.

~Michael Angarano

I kind of strive for being able to go home and having a totally separate life.

~Michael Angarano

I would like to think there is a reason and a choice behind everything.

~Michael Angarano

You've got to stop going back and forth. You've got to make up your mind.

~Michael Angarano

I think the movies that don't try to please people are movies that you respect more in the end.

~Michael Angarano

I don't know how to describe my sense of humor.

~Michael Angarano

The moment that you start to read a script, you're watching the movie in your mind, and that's the one moment that you have. Then, you go off to make the movie and you become so lost in it.

~Michael Angarano

I grew up in dance studios. I was forced to be in several numbers in recitals and dance competitions. I took one tap class - literally one class - and then I quit.

~Michael Angarano

I never really want to repeat myself, obviously, but even if I do, it's because it is a choice.

~Michael Angarano

I think the better you know yourself as a person, the better an actor you can be.

~Michael Angarano

I always want to watch something I've done, so that I know what I didn't do well.

~Michael Angarano

Certain people do need to stay in character the whole time, and that's just what they require as a person.

~Michael Angarano

To be unrecognizable in movies is the biggest compliment that anybody can give you.

~Michael Angarano

I really don't go out at all; I just stay at home and watch movies and skateboard around the house.

~Michael Angarano

I kind of love coming home and being with family and feeling comfortable and knowing where I come from; I kind of like it.

~Michael Angarano

As you get older, you kind of take on things and become kind of different than what you used to be as a kid, obviously.
