One of the great tragedies in human life is to be born a male and not be guided toward the value of a man.

~Michael Gurian

If Huck Finn or Tom Sawyer were alive today, we'd say they had ADD or a conduct disorder. They [boys] are who they are, and we need to love them for who they are. Let's not try to rewire them.

~Michael Gurian

If we want boys to succeed, we need to bring them back to education by making education relevant to them and bring in more service learning and vocational education.

~Michael Gurian

Classrooms keep getting set up more and more around the verbal and less around the kinesthetic and active. They are increasingly becoming environments that favour the girls' brain.

~Michael Gurian

Most teachers are not trained in how boys and girls learn differently.

~Michael Gurian

There is no single way to educate.

~Michael Gurian

A mother's job... is very much to hold back the coming of manhood.

~Michael Gurian

Father's Day is hopefully a time when the culture says, 'this is our moment to look at who our men and boys are.'

~Michael Gurian

The quickest way to create a boy or man who lacks compassion is to judge and shame his feelings.

~Michael Gurian

Our youth want less adult contact if that contact treats them like boys. They want more adult contact that treats them like young men. Tired as they are of the former, they are hungry for the latter

~Michael Gurian

Jed Diamond is, quite simply, one of the wisest men writing today on the topic of male emotional and physical health.

~Michael Gurian

Neurologically, human beings haven't caught up with today's overstimulating environment. Getting kids out in nature can make a difference.

~Michael Gurian

All over the world when you test men and women for facial cue recognition, women test... better. It's a negotiation tool.

~Michael Gurian

Without fathers you would have no civilization.

~Michael Gurian

Making fun of guys to get them to perform and prove themselves, that's always going to exist. But we have to equally celebrate them and empower them.

~Michael Gurian

If we create a generation of men who aren't getting an education, that's bad for women.
