~Michael Moriarty

I don't know why you don't live it up all the time when's dying's just around the corner, but you don't.

~Michael Moriarty

Once the Supreme Court in 1973 decided that infanticide could be legal, it not only ended Americas inalienable right to life, it threw the Golden Rule right off the shores of this continent.

~Michael Moriarty

Drinking is an art, not a sport. You make it a sport, you're dead in the water, you lose everything. It'll kill you, I tell you.

~Michael Moriarty

Laws against things like drugs are inhumane, and create an inhumane society and inhumane law enforcement. I know whats causing violence in America - the damn drug laws.

~Michael Moriarty

Music, of almost any kind, always made sense to me.

~Michael Moriarty

Anything well written with good language and clarity and honesty is worth doing. It comes out of the same tradition as Shakespeare.

~Michael Moriarty

As long as I'm an hour away from a major airport, I can get to that job.

~Michael Moriarty

When I saw Paul Scofield do Loves Labors Lost at Stratford, thats when I saw the potential of the level of truth that could go on up there on a stage. I said, This is what I want to do.

~Michael Moriarty

The attorney general should be enforcing the law, not policy.

~Michael Moriarty
