Believe, Worship, Perfect, Sunday*

Our contexts are foreign. They derive from church tradition that is thousands of years removed from the people who wrote Scripture and the audience to whom those people wrote.

~Michael S. Heiser

We're on safe ground to presume that self-interest and hubris are at the core of the rebellion.

~Michael S. Heiser

God doesn't save us to perpetuate a particular Christian sub-culture. He saves us to advance a supernatural kingdom that is not of this world.

~Michael S. Heiser

God wants the world to function in an orderly way, not a chaotic way, so teaching humans to do what's right and what will make for the happiest life isn't going to be off limits.
