The bitterest truth is better than the sweetest lie.

~Michael Stuhlberg

A miracle is something that seems impossible but happens anyway.

~Michael Stuhlberg

My mom and my dad are ebullient people, and I think I carry that with me.

~Michael Stuhlberg

I love a sense of humor, I love intelligence, I love specificity, I love surprises. I'm inspired to get out of bed in the morning and fill my day with good things.

~Michael Stuhlberg

I've found in my own life, if you try to struggle against what the universe is telling you, you set yourself up for more of a battle.

~Michael Stuhlberg

To see those two characters [Steve Jobs and Andy Hertzfeld] juxtaposed against each other shows an interesting dynamic of how gifted people might function differently in the world.

~Michael Stuhlberg

I love Seth Rogen's line in which he talks about how you can be both a genius and decent at the same time.

~Michael Stuhlberg

I'm always trying to remember that kindness goes a long, long way. I think that's something that people will definitely take out of this film as well.

~Michael Stuhlberg

Film, for me, has been a process of learning on the job.

~Michael Stuhlbarg

Most of the people in New York are very often from somewhere else.

~Michael Stuhlbarg

I think the theater work and the on-camera work feed off each other. My theater work has become more simple, and my on-camera work has become more energized or more spontaneous.

~Michael Stuhlbarg

I wanted to be a cartoonist. I was one of those kids who sat around and drew in my room all the time.

~Michael Stuhlbarg

It's nice to be able to challenge myself by playing real people. But at the same time it utilizes a different part of the brain to just invent new things.
